

Spanish 'Mision' Slated

Rev. Miguel Baca, O.F.M., will be in Clovis Oct. 13-19, to preach a "Mision" or week of special services in Spanish, at Guadalupe Church, 117 Davis. Sunday schedule of the Mision is the regular Sunday schedule, with Fr. Miguel preaching in Spanish: 6 a.m. (the regular Spanish Mass), and at the 8 and 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. English Masses. Monday-Saturday, Oct. 14-19, Fr. Miguel will preach at special services in Spanish each evening at 7 p.m.

Fr. Miguel is a native New Mexican, born in Santa Fe, and he attended St. Michael's School there. He attended high school at St. Francis Seminary, Cincinnati, Ohio, and entered the Franciscan Order there. He received a B.A. from Duns Scotus College, Detroit, Michigan, in 1949, and the degree of B.Th. at Holy Family Theological Colleg in Oldenburg, Ind., and was ordained priest the same year, 1953.

As a popular preacher in both English and Spanish, Fr. Miguel travels across the Southwest, reaching Missions in parish Churches, youth retreats, spiritual conferences for priests, retreats for Sisters; this is his first invitation by a Clovis Church. After Clovis, Fr. Miguel goes to Lubbock, Tex., to preach a Mision at Churches there. For vacation, Fr. Miguel goes to the Mezquital in Old Mexico and spends several months each year working among poverty-stricken Indians

In his busy schedule, Fr. Miguel finds time to write a monthly article for the St. Anthony Messenger, largest national Catholic family magazine in the United States.

All Spanish-speaking people are invited to attend the Mision at Guadalupe Church, 117 Davis, Oct. 13-19.
